Notes on the work done by the Criminal Tribes Staff.

Government in Notification No.J.2471-2/Police 28-16-4 dated 9th January 1917 sanctioned, for a period of six months from 1st April 1917, a temporary staff of 3 Inspectors 2 clerks and 6 constables for work connected with the registration of criminal tribes in Mysore under the Mysore Criminal Tribes Regulation No.VII of 1916. As per Government order No.J.2471-2/Police 28-16-4 dated 9th January 1917, I was placed in charge of this establishment. I took charge of my new office on 31st March last. The subordinate staff selected for the purpose joined duty between 8th April 1917 and the 18th May 1917.

2. A conference of all the Superintendents was held on the 22nd, 23rd and 24th May, and the lines on which action should be taken under the Criminal Tribes Regulation were discussed and decided. Draft Rules under the Regulation were drawn up after a careful study of the rules framed under the Act by the several provinces of British India.

3. The first tribe to be taken up for enquiry was the Capemaris. This tribe, though numerically small, consisting only of about 200 members, is notoriously criminal. The several villages in which members of this tribe live were visited and finger prints of the members were taken. Enquiries were also made regarding the habits, criminal history and the economic position of the tribe. Proposals for the notification of this gang under the Criminal Tribes Regulation have been submitted to the Inspector General of Police. As this is the first case and the members of the staff were new to the work, it took a little extra time to complete it

4. Statistics of crime and criminals in the Bangalore district were collected by 2 Inspectors from the records of the 1st class Magistrate's courts in Bangalore district.

5. Korchars and Kormars have next been taken up, and the 3 Inspectors are engaged on this at present. These classes number over 5,000 in the State. The Gang Registers maintained at the several Police Stations have to be looked into, and their accuracy at present, verified. The criminal history, movements and mutual relations of the several gangs will have to be ascertained. Their economic position must be determined by local enquiries. The District Police, cannot, without prejudice to their ordinary work, undertake the collection of all this information. The special staff will have to do it. The Criminal Tribes Inspectors are now engaged in collecting evidence against the Korchars and Kormars of Kolar and Tumkur districts. The information, as it is collected, is tabulated in the office.

6. Judging from the experience gained in preparing the case about Capemaris, I think that it will take about six months to complete the case of these two tribes, i.e., Korchars and Kormars. The Woddar gang an equally big one - will have to be taken up afterwards.

7. The period sanctioned for the entertainment of the temporary staff expires on the 30th instant. It is necessary that the continuance of the staff for one year from the 1st October 1917, should be sanctioned.
